

Future Of League Of Nations In Balance

Silesian Dispute May Be The Rock Upon Which Council Of League May Split.

MUST FIND REAL SOLUTION NOW

Failure To Do So Would Mean Withdrawal Of One Or More Of Big Powers.

By HENRY WOOD.
(U. P. Correspondent.)

Geneva, Aug. 29.—The future existence of the League of Nations hung in the balance here today when the League's Council met in Reformation Hall at 10 o'clock this morning to consider the Silesian dispute.

Situation Tense
Should an acceptable solution to the problem which has baffled the Supreme Council be found, it was considered certain that the prestige of the League of Nations would be permanently established, while failure would almost inevitably result in the withdrawal of one or more of the big powers, causing disruption of the Assembly.

GUERRILLA WAR SPREADS OVER MINGO FIELD

Meager Reports From The Battle District Tell Of Scattered Fighting Between Clans.

SEVERAL KILLED OR WOUNDED.

Seven Deputies Said To Be Captives—Feeling Runs High After Sunday Battles.

WHAT THE W. VA. MINE TROUBLE IS ALL ABOUT

Union officials have been trying for two years to organize the Mingo county district. The field, which is more than half unionized, has been the scene of bloody fighting between the union miners on one side and non union miners and mine guards on the other.

Union miners from other fields met near Charleston last week to discuss the Mingo situation and decided to march into that district and compel non-union miners to organize, at the same time making a demonstration showing disfavor of Governor Morgan's declaration of martial law in Mingo county.

INDIAN AMPUTATES PAL'S LEG WITH PEN KNIFE WHEN LATTER IS CAUGHT UNDER CAR

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—With all the stoicism of the full-blooded Indian, Edward Waller, 26 years old son of a Mohawk tribe on a reservation in the West, lay bruised and mangled under the wheels of a freight car yesterday in the Glenwood yards of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and never made a whimper while John Brightlight, another brave of the same tribe, amputated his leg with a pocket knife.

Having severed the leg at a point above the knee the Indian, with more presence of mind, applied first aid and saved the life of his pal by staunching the flow of blood. He made a tourniquet with his red bandanna handkerchief to accomplish this which he did in a most thorough manner. Brightlight then summoned assistance and accompanied to police when they removed the injured man to Mercy Hospital.

At that institution it was stated last night the patient has a fighting chance for his life, although it is more than probable that his right leg will have to be amputated today below the knee.

GERMANY MUST PAY FOR AMERICAN LIVES LOST ON THE LUSITANIA

Washington, Aug. 29.—Germany must pay for the American lives lost on the Lusitania and satisfy all other claims of the U. S. and its citizens for war losses caused by the ex-Kaiser's government before German property now held by the Govt. will be returned, Thos. W. Miller, alien property custodian, said today.

The present German government, Miller pointed out, has agreed to this in the new treaty with Germany, but he emphasized that no steps toward the return of German property will be taken until actual payment has been made of all just claims by the Ebert government.

The American claims against Germany including claims of dependents of those who died on the Lusitania total 300 millions. In addition Germany owes $250,000,000 for maintenance of the army of occupation.

The value of German property held is only about 400 million, due to depreciation of securities and the fact that some holdings have been returned. About 150 million of property has been returned as the result of court decisions. The State Department it was learned is now at work on a compilation of all claims against Germany.

BURGLARS ENTER HARDWARE STORE SATURDAY NIGHT

Entered Building Through Roof Trap Door—Secure Loot Valued At About $100—Escape.

The hardware store of William P. Powell on Second street was robbed of about $100 worth of cutlery and revolvers some time Saturday night last. The robbers gained entrance to the store through a trap door in the roof.

The job looks to be the work of local thieves. They shinned up an electric light pole in the alley in the rear of the Murray building and crossed from the roof of the Murray building to the roof of the Powell store.

After securing the knives and revolvers they left by the rear door of the store.

The robbery was discovered toward morning by Night Watchman, Otto Eppers who found the rear door open and notified Mr. Powell.

The local and State police were also notified and are at work trying to run down the robbers.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Wrigley and children Elizabeth, John and Anne of Philadelphia are visiting their father and sister, Mr. J. S. Wrigley and Mrs. L. A. McDowell, of S. 2nd street.

Deputies Held Captive
Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Seven deputies are captives of the miners in Logan county today when seven men were killed and 13 men and one woman wounded in fighting early Sunday, according to latest reports.

Renewed Hostilities
Charleston, Aug. 29.—Renewed hostilities between miners and state forces today threatened in Logan and Boone counties while officials of the Mine Workers made every effort to avert what was feared might develop into a very serious situation.

Feeling was running high following Sunday's battle in which five miners were reported killed. Large numbers of miners were congregated at Sharpless, while state troopers, reinforced by deputies, were ready to take the field at Ethel and Logan.

One Killed At Beech Creek.
Logan, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Fighting between miners and state forces broke out again early Sunday morning. One man was killed, 6 wounded and 2 were missing as a result of a battle at Beech Creek, near Sharpless shortly after midnight.

STATE POLICE OUT AFTER ALL AUTO "SPEED SHARKS"

State Coppers Spring A Trap On Hyde City Road And Many Drivers Get "Call To Justice."

There is woe, genuine woe, in the hearts of automobile drivers in this section following a little occurrence of Saturday last. From all over the State has gone up a roar to the effect that automobile drivers generally are paying no attention to speed or other road laws and are rushing about over the State in high-powered motor cars leaving death, destruction and filled hospitals in their wake.

So widespread have been these violations of all laws and all decency, as regards the safety and rights of others, that insistent appeal has been made to Major Lynn S. Adams of the State Police to break up the practice and make all motorists respect the laws.

On The Job Here
Major Adams has issued orders to his men all over the Commonwealth to get the speeders and the reckless drivers generally. Upon receipt of this orders Corporal Novack and the local detail of State Police measured off a distance on the new cement road through Hyde City and put a couple of gimlet-eyed sharks to work checking up on the autos that passed that way. We don't know how many got by the danger point, but we do know that more than twenty drivers were exceeding the speed limit so far that they have been notified today to appear before a Justice of the Peace and settle for their infraction of the rules of the road.

These "speed traps" or "check ups" are being located all over the State in an effort to cause respect for and observance of the law, and it will be possible now in a day's run for the average "speed demon" to pay five or six fines in one day.

FIVE MEN HELD IN CONNECTION WITH BANK LOOTING

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.—Five men are being held by police today in connection with the looting of the Surety Safety Deposit Vault in the Masonic Temple here of upwards of $250,000.

Three of those held are suspected of the robbery and the other two, Ernest Webber and Milton Jones, are guards who were bound by the "robbers." It was an "inside job," Michael Hughes, chief of detectives, declared.

BIGLER-BLUE BALL ROAD WILL OPEN ON SEPT. 15TH

Letter From Road Supt. Westcott Announces Date Of Opening Road Has Been Postponed.

WORK STARTS ON LOCAL OUTLET ROAD

Expect Stretch Of Highway Outside Borough Limits To Be Completed In Time For Fair.

According to a letter received from County Superintendent of Roads, Westcott, it is noted that the State Highway Department will not be able to open the Bigler-Blue Ball road until Sept 15th instead of Sept. 10th, as first announced. This is due to the fact that the short stretch of road near the camp of Warner Bros. just beyond Bigler, was not completed until five days after the connection was finally made toward Blue Ball.

Start Work Outside Borough Limits
Work on the relaying of the bridge from the borough line to Clearfield creek, mention of which was made in a recent issue of this paper, was begun again this morning. It is Supt. Westcott's intention now that the order to proceed has been given, to rush the work through as rapidly as possible in order that the road may be in shape for travel by the crowd expected here for the big Clearfield County Fair the last week of September.

Mr. Westcott says that no detour will be necessary during the progress of this work but that he will arrange to carry the traffic along one side of the road during the time the repairs are being made.

DRAUCKER'S WOODS ROAD JOB MAKES SLOW PROGRESS

Contractors Expect To Speed Construction Work Up Before Winter Sets In.

John Watts, of the firm of Hanger & Mason, the contractors who have the improving of the stretch of highway between Salem and a point beyond Drauckers Woods, was a visitor here last week looking over the progress that has been made. Mr. Watts stated that the work was not moving along as well as had been hoped when the project was started, but from now on it would move much more rapidly. The preliminary work has been completed and it is expected from now on that at least 300 feet of concrete per day will be poured. The work has been considerably delayed because of the heavy grading.

Mr. Watts expressed the opinion that the work would not be any further improved this year than the stretch now being worked. In other words, it is not believed that the

Charles Hoover Car Takes 25-Foot Plunge And Turns Completely Over In The Fall.

OCCUPANTS OF CAR NOT BADLY HURT

One Woman Jumps As Car Goes Over Hill—Another Is Brought To Local Hospital For Treatment.

An automobile owned and driven by Charles Hoover of Grampian, went over the Narrows on the Lumber City road, above the Humphrey bridge Sunday afternoon last and Mr. Hoover, his wife and two other ladies who occupied same had narrow escapes from serious injury.

The road is quite narrow at the point where the accident occurred and in turning out to let another car pass Mr. Hoover drove too close to the edge and the bank gave way allowing the car to slide off the road and roll twenty-five feet down over the bank. The car turned completely over and landed right side up against a log near the foot of the embankment.

One of the women managed to jump from the car as it left the road, while another jumped but rolled down the bank clear of the machine, while the third, a Mrs. Wertz, of Grampian, with the driver, went down with the machine. All escaped with minor bruises except Mrs. Wertz, whose injuries, while not serious, were such as necessitate her removal to the Clearfield hospital, where Dr. Cowley is attending to her, and she will be able to return home in a few days.

W. B. WALKER CAR FIGURES IN CRASH NEAR BELLWOOD

Smoke From Burning Oil Obscures Driver's View And Car Collides With One Being Repaired.

An automobile accident in which Clearfield county people were principals occurred near Bellwood yesterday afternoon. W. B. Walker, of Bigler, driving a Nash 7-passenger car, was returning from Altoona where, with his family he had been visiting friends. There were eight people in the car. Just this side of Bellwood the Walker car crashed head-on into the car of Frank Bellis, of Clearfield.

Mr. Bellis had stopped his car and was working with the engine when the collision occurred. The smoke from the burning oil in his motor hid the car from Mr. Walker's eyes as he came along and when he did make out the car in front of him it was too late to avoid a collision.

The Nash car was badly smashed up and Leon, the 10-year old son of Mr. Walker, was badly cut about the head. The other occupants of both cars fortunately escaped injury.

The Walker family were compelled to remain all night at Bellwood and came home on the Pennsylvania train this morning. Mr. Bellis was able to drive his car home last evening.

AMERICAN SLAIN BY MEXICAN BANDITTI

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—An American citizen was killed by Mexican bandits last Friday near Sliana Cruz, the State Department announced today. The American's name was given as David I. Richards. His father, Israel Richards, lives at Niles, Cal.

The State Department report said that Richards was killed on the morning of August 25th, by natives near Chisela, Mex. No other details were given.

DO NOT ENTER SILO UNTIL BLOWER IS TURNED ON

Turn the machine blower on and

Fearing an accident, the farm owner finally climbed into the silo. He also was immediately overcome by the poisonous fumes and only the fact that others followed him, forced open the extra silo doors and carried him into the open air saved his life. The

No workman should ever enter a partly filled silo, after the ensiled corn has had an opportunity to develop poisonous carbon monoxide gases overnight, until the machine blower has been started. The fresh air dilutes and scatters the obnoxious gases to the extent that they are rendered harmless. After the blower has been operated for two minutes, it is perfectly safe for the workmen to enter. Another precaution which should be practiced religiously is not to wedge the silo doors into place until they are needed to prevent the waste of the ensiled corn. Many farmers follow the practice of placing most of the doors before any great amount of corn is cut and deposited in the silo. This prevents free circulation of air through the silo which, in turn, operates to favor the accumulation of carbon monoxide and other deadly silo gases.

News of Local Interest
With Special Attention to Coal, Clay and Brick Trade

This increase of $32,000,000 in the exports of this class of merchandise in the fiscal year 1921 is the more remarkable in view of the fact that in the other important classes of machinery the exports of 1921 showed but comparatively slight gains. The exports of electrical machinery increased 37 per cent in value in the fiscal year 1921, while those of all other machinery were increasing but 10 per cent in value.

This growing demand for electrical machinery comes from every direction and includes every sort of appliance. American electric lights twinkled in practically every country and colony of the world; our telephones transmit the languages and "dialects" of every part of the globe; our telegraph instruments click in every continent and country and island; and our electric fans supply cooling breezes the world around. The more than 17,000,000 electric lamps exported in the latest year for which details are available went to seventy-five different countries and colonies, including all the principal countries of Europe all of Latin America; all of the Asiatic countries; Australia and New Zealand; and the principal countries and colonies in Africa. The $5,000,000 worth of telephones exported in 1921 went to over sixty different countries; the $8,000 electric fans sent abroad in that year were distributed to more than seventy countries, while the $2,000,000 worth of electric heating and cooking apparatus went to no less than fifty countries and colonies.

Electric motors are the biggest single item in the $119,000,000 worth of exports of this character in 1931, amounting to over $18,000,000, dynamos and generators about $7,000,000, and insulating wire and cables over $11,000,000. The 1921 figures showed in each instance a larger total than in 1920, despite the fact that prices per unit of quantity in 1921 were in many instances less than in 1920.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinny"

The world may be growing better as some people appear to want to believe, but you can't prove it by the criminal court records in Clearfield county. The criminal list prepared for September court this year contains a total of 189 cases the very largest criminal list in the recent history of the county.

Life is sure one darn contrary thing after another. Here we were just about ready to get sick enough to warrant the prescribing of a case of beer or two for hunting season when along comes Andy Overholt, Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, with the announcement that no regulations for "medicinal beer" would be issued until Congress passed upon the anti-beer bill next winter.

The industrial situation is far from being healthy with the Pennsylvania Railroad refusing to obey the Railroad Labor Board order which affects them adversely, and the Executive Committee of the Railroad Brotherhoods issuing such notices as the following sent out from Chicago Saturday:

"It is well in time of peace to prepare for war. Therefore every member of our organization should preserve his money, his supplies of food and fuel."

This startling "war" announcement was issued in a statement from the executive committee of the Railroad Department of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee also condemned the action of the United States Railroad Labor Board in taking away extra pay for overtime work by railroaders. "The action is not justified," said the committee.

Another conference of rail labor chiefs will be held "in the near future" to determine whether "drastic action" shall be taken, the statement concluded.

The Mingo county, West Virginia mine field is again in the throes of civil war. During the last four or five years the operators of Logan and Mingo counties have defended their territory against the encroachments of unionism by force of arms—have bought up the local Governments, appointed swarms of deputy sheriffs and employed innumerable Felt detectives to debar organizers from the region and bulldoze their employees. They have suppressed free speech and denied the rights of citizenship to any man who sympathized with the union cause. Both counties would have been organized long ago and as peaceable as any other section of the State save for these illegal and indefensible tactics.

THAT 18TH AMENDMENT
The New York American sent a trained investigator over the country to see if four or five weeks to investigate the operation of the Prohibition law. He visited all the principal cities and his findings were printed from day to day in that newspaper. At the conclusion of his series of articles he concluded same as follows:

To sum up this series of articles in a few short paragraphs, which are not "official," but represent the impartial convictions of this writer after a thorough investigation:

The greater part of the United States is still wet, despite national and State prohibition laws.

The present machinery for law enforcement is inadequate—not because the agents are incompetent, but because they are too few.

The only hope of making the country dry in the immediate future—that is, within one, two or three years—is to increase materially the agencies for law enforcement, and at the same time to create a dominant and more active public sentiment in favor of enforcement.

Even if the entire army and navy of the United States is mobilized against the bootleggers, they will continue to exist and do business as long as large dominant masses of the public patronize and support them.

WOULDN'T THAT GRAB YOU

Another of boyhood's idols turn out to possess feet of clay. The historical experts of the London Morning Post discover that King Arthur instead of being an heroic, chivalrous Briton, was in reality a Dutchman from Friesland. The expert describes Arthur as "a filibustering Frieslander, who had rebelled against the Roman Empire and waged a constant guerrilla warfare against his Teutonic rivals in England."

The same authority takes an awful fall out of Irish history and traditions by asserting positively that the two Irish heroes, Konofogen and Brian Boru, were Norsemen.

stretch on this side of Luthersburg will be attempted before next Spring. When the contract was first started it was expected that the entire 6 miles would be completed by this fall, but as matters now stand it is not likely that more than half of the contract will be done.

It is just possible that during this winter the contract will be let for the remaining parts of the road between Clearfield and DuBois, and that this work will be done in connection with the improvement through the Draucker's Woods. This would certainly be most pleasing to the people of this vicinity, as it would give improved highway the entire distance to the county seat. Tragedy That Awakes Fashionable Beach Colony Starts On Dance Floor And Ends With Killing In Grill Room.

Cuban engineering student at Cornell University, jailed here on a charge of murder, declared he had not attempted to "break" Arthurs while he was dancing with Mrs. John S. Shortly after the fighting started Arthurs fell to the cement floor of the grill room, his skull fractured.

Famous cook books are just loaded with recipes for desserts--literally thousands of them--but there's no real, honest-to-goodness dessert like Keystone Ice Cream. It's the dessert of 365 days a year--always desired by everyone.

But not only as a dessert, but in other forms is Keystone Ice Cream as popular as a cool breeze on a hot day. The kiddies, as well as adults crave for it--just because it's pure and wholesome and delicious.

HOW GOOD IS BUSINESS

How good is business, Not very good yet, but it will be better soon, according to answers to the thousand questionnaires recently sent out to Pittsburgh concerns by the Trade and Industrial Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Just compiled, they comprise a summary of what business has been during May, June and July. While the majority of concerns report decreased business over that reported in April for the first quarter, as well as decreased payrolls, they also report collections better. Many are frankly convinced that the turn has been made and that business will improve gradually during the next six months.

Analyzed, the answers show the effect on different industries and lines of merchandizing. Some industries are faring better than others. A few even have as many employees as they had several months ago—and this in spite of the wave of unemployment. Several show such wide variance in their outlook on future business conditions that there is no way to strike a happy medium. It all depends on whose ox is gored, apparently. Wholesale lumber may react the same as retail lumber, in the main, but the two are far different from wholesale groceries, from chemical manufacturing, from the making of iron and steel, or from the sale of automobiles. The coal industry, which has lain dormant for long, shows renewed activity as September approaches, but coal men deny that this is anything more than the usual fall spurt.

One of the most outstanding points made by the answers is that on the whole collections are satisfactory. In a number of lines they are reported slow, but the majority report them either "fair" or "good." Coming at a time when many business firms are or have been refusing to take advantage of discount for cash, this seems to indicate that money is loosening up.

A report by one industry or one concern might not indicate much as to general conditions, but when 1,000 answers are grouped, the composite report is important. As an indication of what Pittsburgh business thinks of business today and tomorrow, the result is eminently satisfactory. There is no reason for premature optimism; so many concerns are marking time. But there is real cause for optimism in the attitude the majority of concerns take to the immediate future. With scarcely an exception the belief is expressed that "we have made the turn," that the bottom has been reached and that an upward trend may be expected. A few profess to believe that only in finance has the turn been made; that the labor situation still is to be solved. But others, basing their statements on wage cuts in many lines of industry during the last few months, ignore the fact that thousands are still out of work, declaring that the readjustment is now possible and will not much longer be delayed.

Among the questions sent out were these:

1. How does present volume compare with April? (A questionnaire was sent out last spring.)
2. Are inquiries more numerous?
3. Do you receive a larger percentage of orders from inquiries than you did during the first quarter?
4. How are collections?
5. What in your opinion are the prospects for increased business in the next six months?
6. How does present number of employees compare with April?
7. Do you believe we have made the turn?

Any composite answer to the above questions would be dangerous. Yet it is safe to report that the volume of business contrasted with April was about the same, or a little less; increase being shown in certain lines. Inquiries were more numerous and, instead of being merely inquiries, were preliminary to actual orders. The question of collections has already been touched upon. So have the prospects for improvement. Employees carried were in general less than last spring.

A firm making galvanized ice cans and steel specialties showed a decreased volume of 70 per cent, though inquiries were reported numerous. Collections were reported good and the firm looks for increased business in its line during the fall. Its payroll of 120 men in April has been cut to 30 employees.

The baking industry reported the usual summer slump due to many Pittsburghers being away and to the increased consumption of green vegetables. Department stores showed a large decrease in business, with collections growing more difficult. The outlook for business within the next six months was not held to be good. Belief that the turn had come in that line was not generally held.

The cigar industry showed hopes for recovery during the fall, but the business volume during summer has been poor. The tool industry has experienced little change since April, and recovery is eagerly anticipated. In industries engaged in the manufacture of malleable iron and steel specialties no great improvement was expected. Grocers reported greater business, more inquiries that bore fruit in orders, and good prospects for business in the last quarter. Collections, however, were reported poor. A concern manufacturing chemicals believed improvement would come in October, but did not think the turn had been made just yet.

In machinery, apparently, the turn has been made, though business, inquiries and collections have been unfavorable during the last quarter. Plumbing supplies was one industry which showed marked improvement, with prospects for gradual improvement during the latter part of the year. This may be due to renewed activity in building.

THE TRUTH ABOUT FORD'S OFFER

Gifford Pinchot, who is accredited with generally knowing what he is talking about before he starts to talk, has some very salient facts to present regarding Henry Ford's offer to the United States Government to take over the Mussles Shoals plant on the Tennessee River. In fact his remarks are so timely and to the point that they are produced below in full:

"The recent offer of Mr. Henry Ford to take over Government property at Mussle Shoals on the Tennessee River is so important that I take the liberty of laying certain essential facts before you.

"The first part of the Ford offer is to lease the Wilson Dam and Dam Number 3 for 100 years, with indefinite renewals, provided the Government will complete them and install machinery to produce 850,000 horsepower. Mr. Ford offers to pay 6 per cent on the 28 million dollars which he estimates will be necessary to complete this work, or 3 1/2 per cent on 48 million dollars. Mr. Ford's own estimate of the whole Government investment in dams, locks and power houses. Even if we add all other annual payments (the so-called amortization payments, and payments for the repair, maintenance and operation of dams, gates and locks), the total would be equivalent to interest at the rate of only 3-6 10 per cent. Mr. Ford offers also to give the Government 300 horsepower to operate the locks.

"Please note that for the waterpower itself Mr. Ford would pay nothing, and that he would be free from all taxes on the property. Other lessees of waterpower rights from the Government not only bear the total cost of building their own dams and powerhouses and pay taxes on them, but they also pay for the waterpower in addition. The Ford offer is like offering a man 3-6 10 per cent on the cost of his factory as rent, and then asking him to throw in a coal mine to supply fuel for the engines for nothing.

"There is no allowance for depreciation, and the Government would beyond question have to pay the cost of injury to the dams or locks from floods or other causes. Moreover, there is nothing in the offer to indicate that the Government, in order to protect its own property, would not have to bear the expense of replacing enormously costly machinery when it had been worn out in Mr. Ford's service.

"The second part of the Ford offer is to buy Nitrate Plant Number 1, which cost the Government in round numbers 13 million dollars, Nitrate Plant Number 2, which cost the Government in round numbers 70 million dollars, and other property which brings the total cost to 85 million dollars, and to pay 5 million dollars for it all. The property for which this offer is made includes steam machinery to produce 160 thousand horsepower, which alone is worth far more than Mr. Ford's offer for the whole. In addition, the Government is to buy from the Alabama Power Company the land upon which certain of the foregoing structures were built, and to turn that over to Mr. Ford also.

"In return for the lease, for the purchased property, and for the water power without charge, Mr. Ford offers in addition to the payments mentioned above, to do three principal things:

"First, 'to maintain Nitrate Plant Number 2 ready to be operated * * * in time of war for the production of explosives,' and in the event of war to turn it over to the Government for that purpose.

"Second, 'to operate Nitrate Plant Number 2 to approximate present capacity in the production of nitrogen and other fertilizer compounds,' and in this business to limit his net profit from the manufacture and sale of fertilizer products to eight per cent.

"Third, the offer as written suggests producing, but contains no direct proposal to produce, fertilizer for the benefit of American farmers. That could, of course, be corrected in the final contract, for I have no doubt that Mr. Ford desires to make fertilizer at a total net profit of eight per cent. Nitrate Plant Number 2, however, is not adapted to making fertilizer, but only cyanamid, one of several materials used for the production of fertilizer, and not one of the best at that.

"The fact is that the Ford offer is not mainly a fertilizer proposition. It is seven parts waterpower to one part fertilizer, even if the fertilizer part should work out. For, if Nitrate Plant Number 2 were to be permanently employed in the manufacture of fertilizer it would consume but 100 thousand horsepower out of the 850,000 installation.

"Beyond question Nitrate Plant Number 2 ought to be maintained in condition for producing explosives in case of war. Most certainly it ought to be used for making fertilizer for American farmers. The wisdom of developing the waterpower on the Tennessee and its tributaries is beyond question. But all these things can be done with fairness to the public.

DESSERTS AND OTHER DISHES.

A meal is never quite finished without something in the form of a dessert. It may be a stuffed date or two, a bit of fruit or simple confection; omitted, the meal is unsatisfactory.

Bread Pudding.

—Take one and one-half cupsful of fine soft bread crumbs, measured lightly; one egg beaten, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar; one-half teaspoonful of salt, two cupsful of milk. Beat the sugar and salt into the beaten egg, add the milk and gradually stir into the crumbs. Let stand half an hour, then bake in a dish of hot water.

Spaghetti de Luxe.—Take a small package or less of spaghetti, one can chicken soup, one can mushrooms, one shredded green pepper and one-fourth cupful of buttered crumbs. Cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender, drain and wash with cold water. Butter a baking dish, place in a layer of spaghetti, half of the mushrooms, and pepper and repeat until all are used. Cover with the can of chicken soup and sprinkle with buttered crumbs. Bake until brown.

Apples Scalloped With Bananas.—Take two large apples sliced, two bananas sliced, sprinkle in layers with sugar and orange juice, dot with bits of butter and repeat; bake in a buttered dish forty minutes.

Banana Float.—Take one pint of milk, two eggs, one tablespoonful of cornstarch, one-half cupful of sugar, salt, vinegar, two bananas and whipped cream. Mix the cornstarch with a little of the cold milk, scald the remaining portion, add the cornstarch mixture and cook over hot water for ten minutes. Beat the eggs slightly, add sugar, salt, to the egg mixture. Stir the milk into the egg and return the custard to a double boiler and cook until thick and smooth. Cool, flavor and pour over two large ripe bananas cut in slices. Chill, and just before serving decorate with tiny floating islands of whipped cream and banana slices.

WOMAN TO DEFEND DRY LAWS BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Mrs. M. W. Willebrandt, Of California, Latest Addition To Staff Of Attorney General.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Protection of the prohibition laws against legal attack will be one of the tasks to be assumed by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, of California, today selected by Attorney General Daugherty to be Assistant Attorney General.

The appointment of Mrs. Willebrandt is regarded as the highest recognition President Harding has made of the ability of women to "fill a man's job." In defending prohibition statutes Mrs. Willebrandt will appear before the Supreme Court. She succeeds Mrs. Anne Abbott Adams of California, who also was very successful in presenting the government side of prohibition cases before the Supreme Court.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

A very pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. John W. Nelson at their home on Clover Hill on Saturday, August 27th, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Nelson. The surprise was planned by her sisters and their families from Williamsport, Emporium, Sterling Run, Driftwood, Weedville and Ginter, who made the occasion a family reunion.

Rev. Hartman, wife and daughter and a few relatives and friends in and around Clearfield joined in the festivities, bringing baskets of good things and many handsome presents for Mrs. Nelson.

All the children of the family were present and the day was a highly enjoyable one. After dinner was served photographs of the family group and the entire assemblage were taken. The guests departed for their homes in the evening after wishing Mrs. Nelson many happy returns of the day.

The young people of the vicinity held a lawn party in the evening at which delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

PRESIDENT PLANS SHORT VACATION

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—President Harding plans a short vacation over Labor Day. It was learned today. He will probably motor to a nearby resort Saturday for a few days rest.

The president's desk is still piled high with routine business left over after the congressional recess.

The harbor and butchers of Clearfield positively refuse to attend tomorrow's ball game. The House of David team, in addition to being averse to having either their hair or whiskers trimmed, are also rank vegetarians and refuse to eat meat of any description, hence the animosity of the harbor and butchers.

Picked Up Along Third Base Line

The Philipsburg 'Tabby Cats,' who are only allowed to play ball with teams they can beat, defeated Bill Feeley and his DuBois Pirates in a see-saw game Saturday, the final score being 9 to 8. DuBois could have won but gave the visitors the game in the ninth because they want a return game at Philipsburg. Sol Robinson played short for DuBois and had three hits off Rube Evans. Sol also starred in the field.

The second baseman of the House of David ball team has two plaits of hair which reach to his waist. They sure are a hairy aggregation.

The House of David B&M team, which has met and defeated many of the strong independent baseball teams of the county, will meet the Clearfield Terriers at the driving park tomorrow afternoon. Mooney who will hurl the pill at our hitting Colbath's is said to be a real pitcher and has not lost a game on this eastern trip. Unlike the "hurling ace" the team takes its name from he will not be allowed to use a sling-shot when he ascends the pitching hill.

About 5000 people saw the game at Janesville yesterday. The proceeds of these games at Janesville are given by Mrs. E. J. Mountz to different charities. The local Children's Home is one of the beneficiaries.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

No indeedy, Mabel. Izzy Hoffman was not one of the spectators at the big game where the twirler, from whom the House of David takes its name, made his great reputation. True, as L. C. says, Izzy has been around some but he didn't start playing the game that long ago.

The True Question

Everywhere in life the true question is not what a man can do but what he can't do. —Curry

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mr. Harry Morse and wife, of Butler county, have been visiting in the homes of friends in town and vicinity.

Mr. Mutt R. Chambers and wife, who hail from Portland Oregon and who have been spending about one month in Curwensville and vicinity will leave tomorrow for Sellingsville, Pa., to spend some time with Mrs. Chambers relatives, and about the first of October will return to their home on the coast. Mr. Chambers was fortunate enough to secure possession of an old fashioned spinning wheel, probably made by his father, Wm. P. Chambers more than fifty years ago. He shipped the relic to his son Charles Chambers, who resides in Cleveland. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chambers are loud in their praise of the royal treatment they received during their stay among Curwensville people and further up river folks.

Iron signs have been placed at intervals on the side of the two prominent squares, taking in the territory lying between Walnut and Filbert streets, prohibiting the parking of automobiles for a longer time than ten minutes. Parking is permitted on the left hand side of the street going down and also coming back. This is a good movement on the part of Borough Council and will make it considerably less dangerous for pedestrians in crossing the street from one side to the other, especially for the little folks. Heretofore these two squares were parking grounds for nearly a hundred machines every evening, shutting out from sight moving machines traveling through the streets without first getting out of the way. In fact it was dangerous for any one to try to cross the street without first getting outside the parking line to ascertain if the passageway was safe. Chief G. B. Clark is going to strictly enforce this new rule.

"Barney" Ayers, the rural mail carrier over Route No. 1, is free from duty at present enjoying a deserved vacation. Cloyd Starr, a resident of Susquehanna avenue, South Side, will deliver the mail until Mr. Ayers is ready to resume his work again.

Mr. Oris Brennetti and family, who are residing in Ridgeway temporarily, came home on Saturday and spent several days with kin folks on North Pine street.

Several men who spent all of last week selling bonds, representing large New York City firms and industries, did not depart empty handed, as we heard it quoted Saturday evening that they had disposed of some $50,000 worth of stock and bonds to Curwensville people who have been hoarding their pennies for years awaiting an opportunity to place the same in something that would pay them a reasonable profit on investment.

Miss Katherine Shearer, who has been visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Low J. LaPorte, for a month past returned to her home in Olean, N. Y., Saturday.

The ball game between two teams known and recognized as the Vinegar League, of which Curwensville forms a part, played a game with an Ansonville advance guard Saturday afternoon and trimmed the visitors. The game generally was devoid of enthusiasm, being too much of a one-sided contest. A schedule of series of games are in preparation and as there are several clubs connected with this "Vinegar" League, Curwensville fans will be entertained from time to time by visiting base ballists.

After this week a large number of kids will be entertained sufficiently to occupy their time besides being on the public streets. All schools open up for the fall and winter term which will be a great relief to some parents.

GAMBLING RESORT RAIDED BY BANDITS

New York, Aug. 29.—Nine armed men, believed to be New York gangsters, raided a gambling resort in Stamford, Conn., early Sunday morning, stole $15,000 from 30 players and killed Bernard Kilkelly, of Stamford, when the refused to give up his money.

Stamford police arrested John Reddy, 18 years old, after they had fired a dozen shots at him in a chase near Greenwich, Conn.

WAR AGAINST WAR NOW PLANNED BY AMERICAN LEGION

Call Issued To Those Who Fought In World War To Join Another World Campaign.

Paris, France, Aug. 29.—(by cable).—A call to the men of the world who served in the late war to join now in another campaign—a war against war—was issued by Franklin D'Olier, former national commander of the American Legion at Chateau Thierry on August 26, and earlier in the same week by John G. Emery, the Legion's chief speaking at the unveiling of the French monument to the A. E. F. at Flirey.

"Blood is mixed with the mortar that holds these stones erect. Bayonets beat into trowels spread it there," Mr. Emery said. "Magnificent as this tribute is and proud as I am to behold it, I pray that it may be the last monument France ever have cause to erect to an American soldier. And by the same token may America never have cause to raise a shaft to a French soldier of another war."

"The time has come when the end of wars should no longer be considered in the light of an impossible dream. We hope there may rise someone who will point the way to an understanding whereby all wars shall cease."

At the dedication of the Pont Roosevelt, spanning the Marne at Chateau Thierry, Paris Commander D'Olier declared that while the service men, by reason of their participation in the world war, could not be termed pacifists, they represent type of average citizen who always pay the price of war and as such they should lead in impressing upon the nation's public leaders the lesson that war does not pay. "War between nations is as useless and as senseless as duelling between individuals," he said. "We hope that our leaders will so conduct our nation that wars in the future will be buried in that deep grave with duelling."

RECENT CINEMA DEVELOPMENTS

By Charles Beahan
"DISRAELI"

George Arliss has made his Disraeli at once a finished and picturesque characterization. That it should photograph well was a foregone conclusion, and the results to justify the prophecy are in the film, which is released by the Distinctive Photoplays Company through the United Artists Corporation.

The piece has been excellently set and not, thank goodness, with over-elaboration. The laying in of the background is important in "Disraeli" for it is against his panorama of prejudice and private worry and public opposition that Disraeli must move, or he would not be Disraeli, at least not the one drawn for us by Louis N. Parker and the deft Mr. Arliss. That the back drop, so to speak, has not been slighted or smudged is a boon to the chief actor.

There may, of course, seem too much to do in this political intrigue of 1876 to keep the average spectator interested all the time. The buying of the Suez Canal by England was an event that shook the world, but it remains that the digging of "that Egyptian ditch" might be more thrilling in the movies than were the behind-the-scenes machinations for its purpose. Be that as it may, the producers had a play to follow rather than a motion picture to construct—and the scent of the play clings to it still.

What is most evident in the humor. It is conversational rather than situational. It was obvious that the suave repartee of Disraeli that warmed one in the stage version, the things that he SAID, not what he did. Titles are the film's only recourse to humor in such a case, and the titles do what they can by using the best there was, handicapped, of course, by the absence of George Arliss' dry, insinuating voice. There is still, however, the sensitive face and the quick, panther-like movement to point meanings and shades of meanings. These qualities of Mr. Arliss, which are peculiarly his own, he uses with telling skill. The rest of the cast is particularly good, though one looks perhaps, for a more typical Englishman than Reginald Denny for Viscount Deeford. This is not to discount Mr. Denny's acting in the least.

"CAPPY RICKS"

The most conspicuous person concerned with this film is one who does not appear—the director. Tom Forman has the trick of taking an ordinary batch of film material and, by a yeast-like good humor raising it to something lighter and more palatable than its original state. We have noticed this quality in him before, and shall continue noting it they give him something worthier his efforts, something that will elicit enthusiasm for itself as well as for its director. Perhaps they have found him too valuable for making stale stuff exceedingly marketable, in which case he is not the first to dig his own grave with the sharp spade of his talent.

"Cappy Ricks," adapted from the novel by Peter B. Kyne, is a tale of

His Beard Doesn't Save Him

This actor is listed in the cast of "The Hell Diggers" as Alexander Brown. But he is Richard Bennett, famous for years on the stage as actor and producer. He put on the whiskers to take part in his first photoplay when Theodore Roberts could not take the part because of lights on high seas and love ashore, and of fights ashore, too, for good measure. Whatever setback the hero may have midway, he is always victorious in the end, and he is especially adept at accomplishing the improbable. America with its established admiration for success against all odds, does not conceal its pleasure before this type of story. More than frequent tests have shown it proof against failure. And—"nothing succeeds like success."

Mr. Forman has whipped his material into gratifying pictorial shape. He has composed his scenes with the eye of the spectator ever in mind. By way of making them even more presentable, he finds out their intrinsic humor, which he neither allows to get away from him or to run away with him. Add to his skill the pleasing personalities of Thomas Meighan and Agnes Ayres and "Cappy Ricks" turns out to be an enjoyable hour filler—if you have the hour.

JIGGS AND MAGGIE

The many admirers of Jiggs and Maggie will be delighted to learn that "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street" is scheduled to appear at the Driggs Theatre next Thursday. This splendid combination of song, melody, wholesome comedy, beautiful girls, smart ensembles and ravishing costumes, comes from its successful engagements at the Manhattan Opera House, New York, and the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia, the Homes of Grand Opera, where it taxed the capacities of those two huge playhouses for many weeks. This season's offering is said to be the most pretentious of the "Father" series. "Bringing Up Father" certainly got many a laugh out of everyone who has seen it. It is delightfully amusing. A splendid cast of Broadway musical comedy players will be seen in the leading roles.

She was a new type to this young aristocrat. He had known girls with wealth, and beauty, and social position, but here he was head-over-heels in love with a penniless orphan, a mere circus performer, who was good at summer-saults, but didn't know whether etiquette was something to eat or to wear.

Dick loved her just as she was, but aristocratic Southern families are not so easily satisfied as ardent young lovers are. The bewildered little clown found that life in a big house was quite different from life under the big top—in fact, that it was anything but a circus.

80TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

The comfortable farm home of Comrade Daniel H. Barnett, in Knox township, was the scene of a happy gathering on Friday last, the occasion being the 80th birthday of Mr. Barnett. Nearly two hundred of his relatives and friends were present to help this good old timer celebrate his arrival at the four score post and everybody enjoyed the day to the limit.

Bountiful refreshments were served and nothing left undone to make it pleasant for all.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Emma Neal and Mrs. Kate Welshons, sisters and George Barnett, brother, of the guest of honor. They were accompanied by Pauline Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Friedline, and William Neal neices and nephews of Mr. Barnett, all from Jefferson county, Rev. and Mrs. Jarrett, of McConnellsburg, Pa., and John Farrell, of Ohio, all old friends, were also present, while Isaac Wolfe of Ferguson, David Litz, of Houtzdale, and William Schoening, of Jordan, were among Mr. Barnett's civil war comrades present.

Mayor Chase, of Clearfield, acted as toastmaster, and the "feast of reason and flow of soul", following the eats, was highly enjoyable.

 If we looked for people's virtues And their faults refused to see, What a pleasant, cheerful, Happy place this world would be.

WHAT TO EAT.

The eternal question constantly occurring daily, to be solved by twenty million housewives and cooks is what shall we have for dinner?

Fish Soup.—Cover the skin, bones of several fish (cod, haddock, flounder or lake trout) with cold water, add an onion, half a carrot, half a cupful of celery leaves, three branches of parsley, chopped and cooked in two tablespoonfuls of fat; let simmer, closely covered, for half an hour. Strain off the liquid and to a quart of the soup or broth add one-third of a cupful of minute tapioca cooked in a pint of milk until transparent; add a teaspoonful or more of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of paprika, one cupful of cream and half a pound of fresh raw fish cut in half-inch cubes. Let cook over boiling water ten minutes and serve with olives.

Creole Stew.—Take one pound of lean beef or a medium-sized fowl, two cupfuls of tomatoes, one cupful of carrots, one cupful of chopped sweet peppers, one-half cupful of rice, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped onion, one teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of fat. Cut the meat in pieces, melt the fat, add the onions, peppers, meat or chicken; brown in the fat. Put in the cooking vessel, with the seasoning, rice, vegetables, and one cupful of boiling water; simmer for one-half hour, then put into the cooker for three hours without the soapstones or two hours with them. With chicken and okra instead of the meat and carrots, this is a favorite southern dish.

Tripe Stew.—Prepare by scalding and draining and used as the chicken with macaroni, makes another good hot dish for supper or luncheon.

Apple Gelatin.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water. Cook six tart apples with half a lemon rind, or use a like amount of seasoned apple sauce. Put through a sieve, add the juice of a lemon, the softened gelatin and pour into a mold. Serve with cream, whipped or plain.

Union miners from other fields met near Charleston last week to discuss the Mingo situation and decided to march into that district and compel non-union miners to organize, at the same time making a demonstration showing disfavor of Governor Morgan's declaration of martial law in Mingo county.

INDIAN AMPUTATES PAL'S LEG WITH PEN KNIFE WHEN LATTER IS CAUGHT UNDER CAR

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—With all the stoicism of the full-blooded Indian, Edward Waller, 26 years old son of a Mohawk tribe on a reservation in the West, lay bruised and mangled under the wheels of a freight car yesterday in the Glenwood yards of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and never made a whimper while John Brightlight, another brave of the same tribe, amputated his left leg with a pocket knife.

Having severed the leg at a point above the knee the Indian, with rare presence of mind, applied first aid and saved the life of his pal by staunching the flow of blood. He made a tourniquet with his red bandanna handkerchief to accomplish this, which he did in a most thorough manner. Brightlight then summoned assistance and accompanied to police when they removed the injured man to Mercy Hospital.

At that institution it was stated last night the patient has a fighting chance for his life, although it is more than probable that his right leg will have to be amputated today below the knee.

GERMANY MUST PAY FOR AMERICAN LIVES LOST ON THE LUSITANIA

Washington, Aug. 29.—Germany must pay for the American lives lost on the Lusitania and satisfy all other claims of the U. S. and its citizens for war losses caused by the ex-Kaiser's government before German property now held by the Govt. will be returned. Those W. Miller, alien property custodian, said today.

The present German government, Miller pointed out, has agreed to this in the new treaty with Germany, but he emphasized that no steps toward the return of German property will be taken until actual payment has been made of all lost claims by the Ebert government.

The American claims against Germany—including claims of dependents of those who died on the Lusitania total 300 millions. In addition Germany owes $250,000,000 for maintenance of the army of occupation. The value of German property held is only about 400 million, due to depreciation of securities and the fact that some holdings have been returned. About 150 million of property has been returned as the result of court decisions. The State Department it was learned is now at work on a compilation of all claims against Germany.

BURGLARS ENTER HARDWARE STORE SATURDAY NIGHT

Entered Building Through Roof Trap Door—Secure Loot Valued At About $100—Escape.

The hardware store of William F. Powell on Second street was robbed of about $100 worth of cutlery and revolvers some time Saturday night last. The robbers gained entrance to the store through a trap door in the roof.

The job looks to be the work of local thieves. They shined up an electric light pole in the alley in the rear of the Murray building and crossed from the roof of the Murray building to the roof of the Powell store.

After securing the knives and revolvers they left by the rear door of the store.

The robbery was discovered toward morning by Night Watchman, Otto Eppers who found the rear door open and notified Mr. Powell.

The local and State police were also notified and are at work trying to run down the robbers.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Wrigley and children, Elizabeth, John and Anne of Philadelphia are visiting their father and sister, Mr. J. S. Wrigley and Mrs. L. A. McDowell, of S. 2nd street.

Deputies Held Captive
Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Seven deputies are captives of the miners in Logan county today when seven men were killed and 13 men and one woman wounded in fighting early Sunday, according to latest reports.

Renewed Hostilities
Charleston, Aug. 29.—Renewed hostilities between miners and state forces today threatened in Logan and Boone counties while officials of the Mine Workers made every effort to avert what was feared might develop into a very serious situation. Feeling was running high following Sunday's battle in which five miners were reported killed. Large numbers of miners were congregated at Sharpless, while state troopers, reinforced by deputies, were ready to take the field at Ethel and Logan.

One Killed At Beech Creek
Logan, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Fighting between miners and state forces broke out again early Sunday morning. One man was killed, 6 wounded and 2 were missing as a result of a battle at Beech Creek, near Sharpless shortly after midnight.

STATE POLICE OUT AFTER ALL AUTO "SPEED SHARKS"

State Coppers Spring A Trap On Hyde City Road And Many Drivers Get "Call To Justice."

There is woe, genuine woe, in the hearts of automobile drivers in this section following a little occurrence of Saturday last. From all over the State has gone up a roar to the effect that automobile drivers generally are paying no attention to speed or other road laws and are rushing about over the State in high-powered motor cars leaving death, destruction and filled hospitals in their wake.

So widespread have been these violations of all laws and all decency, as regards the safety and rights of others, that insistent appeal has been made to Major Lynn S. Adams of the State Police to break up the practice and make all motorists respect the laws.

On The Job Here
Major Adams has issued orders to his men all over the Commonwealth to get the speeders and the reckless drivers generally. Upon receipt of this orders Corporal Vack and the local detail of State Police measured off a distance on the new cement road through Hyde City and put a couple of gimlet-eyed sharks to work checking up on the autos that passed that way. We don't know how many got by the danger point, but we do know that more than twenty drivers were exceeding the speed limit so far that they have been notified today to appear before a Justice of the Peace and settle for their infraction of the rules of the road.

These "speed traps" or "check ups" are being located all over the State in an effort to cause respect for and observance of the law, and it will be possible now in a day's run for the average "speed demon" to pay five or six fines in one day.

FIVE MEN HELD IN CONNECTION WITH BANK LOOTING

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 29.—Five men are being held by police today in connection with the looting of the Security Safety Deposit Vault in the Masonic Temple here of upwards of $250,000.

Three of those held are suspected of the robbery and the other two, Ernest Webber and Milton Jones, are guards who were bound by the "robbers." It was an "inside job," Michael Hughes, chief of detectives, declared.

SINN FEIN CABINET AGREES TO FURTHER "CONVERSATIONS"

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 29.—The Sinn Fein cabinet has decided on a reply to Lloyd George's latest note in which it agrees to further conversations between Irish leaders and the British cabinet. It was learned today. The cabinet met this afternoon and considered its reply, which will be forwarded immediately to London.

AUTOMOBILE SLIPS FROM ROAD DOWN BIG EMBANKMENT

Charles Hoover Car Takes 25-Foot Plunge And Turns Completely Over In The Fall.

OCCUPANTS OF CAR NOT BADLY HURT

One Woman Jumps As Car Goes Over Hill—Another Is Brought To Local Hospital For Treatment.

An automobile owned and driven by Charles Hoover of Grampian, went over the Narrows on the Lumber City road, above the Humphrey bridge Sunday afternoon last and Mr. Hoover, his wife and two other ladies who occupied same had narrow escapes from serious injury.

The road is quite narrow at the point where the accident occurred and in turning out to let another car pass Mr. Hoover drove too close to the edge and the bank gave way allowing the car to slide off the road and roll twenty-five feet down over the bank. The car turned completely over and landed right side up against a log near the foot of the embankment.

One of the women managed to jump from the car as it left the road, while another jumped but rolled down the bank clear of the machine, while the third, a Mrs. Wertz, of Grampian, with the driver, went down with the machine. All escaped with minor bruises except Mrs. Wertz, whose injuries, while not serious, were such as to necessitate her removal to the Clearfield hospital, where the County High ministered to her and she will be able to return home in a few days.

W. B. WALKER CAR FIGURES IN CRASH NEAR BELLWOOD

Smoke From Burning Oil Obscures Driver's View And Car Collides With One Being Repaired.

An automobile accident in which Clearfield county people were principally concerned occurred near Bellwood yesterday afternoon. W. B. Walker, of Bigler, driving a Nash 7-passenger car, was returning from Altoona where, with his family, he had been visiting friends. There were eight people in the car. Just this side of Bellwood the Walker car crashed head-on into the car of Frank Bellis, of Clearfield.

Mr. Bellis had stopped his car and was working with the engine when the collision occurred. The smoke from the burning oil in his motor hid the car from Mr. Walker's eyes as he came along and when he did make out the car in front of him it was too late to avoid a collision.

The Nash car was badly smashed up and Leon, the 10-year-old son of Mr. Walker, was badly cut about the head. The other occupants of both cars fortunately escaped injury.

The Walker family were compelled to remain all night at Bellwood and came home on the Pennsylvania train this morning. Mr. Bellis was able to drive his car home last evening.

The State Department report said that Richards was killed on the morning of August 26th, by natives near Chivela, Mex. No other details were given.

Mr. W. B. Walker left today for Altoona where he will visit relatives.

STATES INDUSTRY FUND FOR TUBERCULAR CATTLE IS EXHAUSTED

Twelve hundred farmers who have signed up to have their herds of dairy cattle tested for tuberculosis under the State Federal Accredited Herd Plan, this week received letters announcing that the indemnity funds for this work in Pennsylvania are exhausted. The recent legislature appropriated $150,000 for payment of indemnity for the cattle found to be tubercular and disposed of. This fund has been exhausted in settling the claims of the 2,100 herd owners whose herds are now in process of being accredited.

The 1,200 additional herd owners are seeking to obtain the advantages offered by the State of Pennsylvania and the Federal Government Dr. T. E. Munse has sent letters to these dairymen stating that the current funds are exhausted and that the Federal Government will not pay its share of the indemnity until the state has fulfilled its obligations. The letter also contains this paragraph:

"Cattle that react to tuberculin tests applied from now on will not be appraised for immediate payment of indemnity, but an agreement of valuation will be made and the claim will be paid if money is appropriated at the next session of the legislature."

DO NOT ENTER SILO UNTIL BLOWER IS TURNED ON

Turn the machine blower on and leave it on for at least two minutes before anyone is permitted to enter a partly filled silo. Unless this rule is followed, the result is likely to be death, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Annually fatalities occur among farmers and their helpers as a result of the workmen entering half-filled silos after the deadly carbon monoxide gases have had a chance to accumulate directly above the freshly ensiled corn. A few days ago two Illinois farmers were killed and another was rendered seriously sick by silo gases, which are almost as dangerous as the poisonous mustard gases used during the recent war. In this instance, one of the farm workmen entered a 50-foot silo which had been half-filled the previous day. Some time elapsed and when he did not come out, one of the hands ascended into the silo. Neither reappeared, though the other workers shouted to them repeatedly to come down.

Fearing an accident, the farm owner finally climbed into the silo. He also was immediately overcome by the poisonous fumes and only the fact that others followed him, forced open the extra silo doors and carried him into the open air saved his life. The two other men were suffocated immediately. Each year a number of accidents of this kind occur, due largely to carelessness and ignorance of the proper methods of eradicating the dangerous gases. The preventive measures are simple and efficient and where they are followed there is no danger.

No workman should ever enter a partly filled silo, after the ensiled corn has had an opportunity to develop poisonous carbon monoxide gases over night, until the machine blower has been started. The fresh air dilutes and scatters the obnoxious gases to the extent that they are rendered harmless. After the blower has been operated for two minutes, it is perfectly safe for the workmen to enter. Another precaution which should be practiced religiously is not to wedge the silo doors into place until they are needed to prevent the waste of the ensiled corn. Many farmers follow the practice of placing most of the doors before any great amount of corn is cut and deposited in the silo. This prevents free circulation of air through the silo which, in turn, operates to favor the accumulation of carbon monoxide and other deadly silo gases.

THREE KILLED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 29.—A man woman and small boy were instantly killed late yesterday afternoon when an airplane in which they were riding went into a nose dive while 100 feet in the air and crashed to the ground on the farm of George D. Edwards, at Rhawn street and Krews town road. According to persons who witnessed the tragedy, the accident was caused by the stopping of the motor.

The dead are:
 CONRAD M. FOSS, twenty-two years old, whose home is at Loves Park, Rockford, Pa., but who was staying in Hatboro, Floss was the pilot of the airplane.
 MRS. MARY PUSZYNSKA, thirty-nine years old, 3167 Richmond street

THE UNITED STATES ELECTRIFYING THE WORLD

Official announcement from Washington of the creation of a "Division of Electrical Machinery" in the Department of Commerce calls attention, says the Trade Record published by The National City Bank of New York, to the growing demand of the outside world for American equipment for harnessing this latest servant of man—electricity. In the opening year of the war, our fiscal year 1915, our entire exports of the group officially designated as "electrical machinery and appliances" amounted to but $19,772,000, but had advanced to $54,547,000 in its closing year 1918. Then with the world's return to peace and its closer acquaintance with the quality of our manufactures in this line, the total exports of "electrical machinery and appliances" jumped to $80,000,000 in 1919, $87,000,000 in 1920, and $119,221,000 in 1921, the fiscal year just ended.

This increase of $32,000,000 in the exports of this class of merchandise in the fiscal year 1921 is the more remarkable in view of the fact that in the other important classes of machinery the exports of 1921 showed but comparatively slight gains. The exports of electrical machinery increased 37 per cent in value in the fiscal year 1921, while those of all other machinery were increasing but 10 per cent in value.

This growing demand for electrical machinery comes from every direction and includes every sort of appliance. American electric lights twinkled in practically every country and colony of the world; our telephones transmit the languages and "dialects" of every part of the globe; our telegraph instruments click in every continent and country and island; and our electric fans supply cooling breezes the world around. The more than 17,000,000 electric lamps exported in the latest year for which details are available went to seventy-five different countries and colonies, including all the principal countries of Europe all of Latin America; all of the Asiatic countries; Australia and New Zealand; and the principal countries and colonies in Africa. The $5,000,000 worth of telephones exported in 1921 went to over sixty different countries; the $8,000,000 electric fans sent abroad in that year were distributed to more than seventy countries, while the $2,000,000 worth of electric heating and cooking apparatus went to no less than fifty countries and colonies.

Electric motors are the biggest single item in the $119,000,000 worth of exports of this character in 1921, amounting to over $18,000,000, dynamos and generators about $7,000,000, and insulating wire and cables over $11,000,000. The 1921 figures showed in each instance a larger total than in 1920, despite the fact that prices per unit of quantity in 1921 were in many instances less than in 1920.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinner"

The world may be growing better as some people appear to want to believe, but you can't prove it by the criminal court records in Clearfield county. The criminal list prepared for September court this year contains a total of 189 cases the very largest criminal list in the recent history of the county.

Life is sure one darn contrary thing after another. Here we were just about ready to get sick enough to warrant the prescribing of a case of beer or two for hunting season when along comes Andy Overholt Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, with the announcement that no regulations for "medicinal beer" would be issued until Congress passed upon the anti-beer bill next winter.

The industrial situation is far from being healthy with the Pennsylvania Railroad refusing to obey the Railroad Labor Board order which affects them adversely, and the Executive Committee of the Railroad Brotherhoods issuing such notices as the following sent out from Chicago Saturday:

"It is well in time of peace to prepare for war. Therefore every member of our organization should preserve his money, his supplies of food and fuel."

This startling "war" announcement was issued in a statement from the executive committee of the Railway Department of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee also condemned the action of the United States Railroad Labor Board in taking away extra pay for overtime work by railroaders. "The action is not justified," said the committee.

Another conference of rail labor chiefs will be held "in the near future" to determine whether "drastic action" shall be taken, the statement concluded.

The Mingo county, West Virginia mine field is again in the throes of civil war. During the last four or five years the operators of Logan and Mingo counties have defended their territory against the encroachments of unionism by force of arms—have bought up the local Governments, appointed swarms of deputy sheriffs and employed innumerable Felt detectives to debar organizers from the region and bulldoze their employees. They have suppressed free speech and denied the rights of citizenship to any man who sympathized with the union cause. Both counties would have been organized long ago and as peaceable as any other section of the State save for these illegal and indefensible tactics.

THAT 18TH AMENDMENT

The New York American sent a trained investigator over the country for just four or five weeks to investigate the operation of the Prohibition law. He visited all the principal cities and his findings were printed from day to day in that newspaper. At the conclusion of his series of articles he concluded same as follows:

"To sum up this series of articles in a few short paragraphs, which are not 'official,' but represent the impartial convictions of this writer after a thorough investigation:

The greater part of the United States is still wet, despite national and State prohibition laws.

The present machinery for law enforcement is inadequate—not because the agents are incompetent, but because they are too few.

The only hope of making the country dry in the immediate future—that is, within one, two or three years—is to increase materially the agencies for law enforcement, and at the same time to create a dominant and more active public sentiment in favor of enforcement.

Even if the entire army and navy of the United States is mobilized against the bootleggers, they will continue to exist and do business as long as large dominant masses of the public patronize and support them.

WOULDN'T THAT GRAB YOU

Another of boyhood's idols turn out to possess feet of clay. The historical experts of the London Morning Post discovers that King Arthur instead of being an heroic, chivalrous Briton, was in reality a Dutchman from Friesland. The expert describes Arthur as "a filibustering Frieslander, who had rebelled against the Roman Empire and waged a constant guerrilla warfare against his Teutonic rivals in England."

The same authority takes an awful fall out of Irish history and traditions by asserting positively that the two Irish heroes, Konothen and Brian Boru, were Norsemen.

Bible's Middle Verse.

The middle verse of the Bible is the 8th verse of the 118th psalm, and reads: "It is better to take refuge in Jehovah than to put confidence in man."

Profitable Eggshells.

In no instance are the shells of the eggs used by the Italian vendors of ice cream sold in the London streets broken. They are pierced at each end and blown by the mouth, the perfect shells being sold to the proprietors of shooting galleries.

Blondes Disappear in Three Decades

stretch on this side of Luthersburg will be attempted before next Spring. When the contract was first started it was expected that the entire 6 miles would be completed by this fall, but as matters now stand it is not likely that more than half of the contract will be done.

It is just possible that during this winter the contract will be let for the remaining parts of the road between Clearfield and DuBois, and that this work will be done in connection with the improvement through the Draucker's Woods. This would certainly be most pleasing to the people of this vicinity, as it would give improved highway the entire distance to the county seat. It would be another connecting link on the Lake to the Susquehanna.

CONFLICTING TALES TOLD BY "DANCE MURDER" SUSPECT

Tragedy That Awakes Fashionable Beach Colony Starts On Dance Floor And Ends With Killing In Grill Room.

Freehold, N. J. Aug. 29.—The central figures in the "masquerade dance murder" in the fashionable beach colony here today conflicting stories of the incident which led to the killing of Cecil Arthurs. Salvatore Labord, a wealthy young

Cuban engineering student at Cornell University, jailed here on a charge of murder, declared he had not attempted to "break" Arthurs while he was dancing with Mrs. John S. Suthman, Jr. Friends of Arthurs told police the young Cuban persisted in his efforts to dance with Mrs. Suthman while Arthurs was dancing with her, and Arthurs became enraged at the persistence of the Cuban and agreed to "meet him outside." Shortly after the fighting started Arthurs fell to the cement floor of the grill room, his skull fractured.

HOW GOOD IS BUSINESS

How good is business, Not very good yet, but it will be better soon, according to answers to the thousand questionnaires recently sent out to Pittsburg concerns by the Trade and Industrial Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Just compiled, they comprise a summary of what business has been during May, June and July. While the majority of concerns report decreased business over that reported in April for the first quarter, as well as decreased payrolls, they also report collections better. Many are frankly convinced that the turn has been made and that business will improve gradually during the next six months.

Analyzed, the answers show the effect on different industries and lines of merchandizing. Some industries are faring better than others. A few even have as many employees as they had several months ago—and this in spite of the wave of unemployment. Several show such wide variance in their outlook on future business conditions that there is no way to strike a happy medium. It all depends on whose ox is gored, apparently. Wholesale lumber may react the same as retail lumber, in the main, but the two are far different from wholesale groceries, from chemical manufacturing, from the making of iron and steel, or from the sale of automobiles. The coal industry, which has lain dormant for long, shows renewed activity as September approaches, but coal men deny that this is anything more than the usual fall spurt.

One of the most outstanding points made by the answers is that on the whole collections are satisfactory. In a number of lines they are reported slow, but the majority report them either "fair" or "good." Coming at a time when many business firms are or have been refusing to take advantage of discount for cash, this seems to indicate that money is loosening up.

A report by one industry or one concern might not indicate much as to general conditions, but when 1,000 answers are grouped, the composite report is important. As an indication of what Pittsburg business thinks of business today and tomorrow, the result is eminently satisfactory. There is no reason for premature optimism; so many concerns are marking time. But there is real cause for optimism in the attitude the majority of concerns take to the immediate future. With scarcely an exception the belief is expressed that "we have made the turn," that the bottom has been reached and that an upward trend may be expected. A few profess to believe that only in finance has the turn been made; that the labor situation still is to be solved. But others, basing their statements on wage cuts in many lines of industry during the last few months, ignore the fact that thousands are still out of work, declaring that the readjustment is now possible and will not much longer be delayed.

Among the questions sent out were these:

1. How does present volume compare with April? (A questionnaire was sent out last spring.)
2. Are inquiries more numerous?
3. Do you receive a larger percentage of orders from inquiries than you did during the first quarter?
4. How are collections?
5. What in your opinion are the prospects for increased business in the next six months?
6. How does present number of employees compare with April?
7. Do you believe we have made the turn?

Any composite answer to the above questions would be dangerous. Yet it is safe to report that the volume of business contrasted with April was about the same, or a little less; increase being shown in certain lines. Inquiries were more numerous and, instead of being merely inquiries, were preliminary to actual orders. The question of collections has already been touched upon. So have the prospects for improvement. Employees carried were in general less than last spring.

A firm making galvanized ice cans and steel specialties showed a decreased volume of 70 per cent, though inquiries were reported numerous. Collections were reported good and the firm looks for increased business in its line during the fall. Its payroll of 120 men in April has been cut to 30 employees.

The baking industry reported the usual summer slump due to many Pittsburghers being away and to the increased consumption of green vegetables. Department stores showed a large decrease in business, with collections growing more difficult. The outlook for business within the next six months was not held to be good. Belief that the turn had come in that line was not generally held.

The cigar industry showed hopes for recovery during the fall, but the business volume during summer has been poor. The tool industry has experienced little change since April, and recovery is eagerly anticipated. In industries engaged in the manufacture of malleable iron and steel specialties no great improvement was expected. Grocers reported greater business, more inquiries that bore fruit in orders, and good prospects for business in the last quarter. Collections, however, were reported poor. A concern manufacturing chemicals believed improvement would come in October, but did not think the turn had been made just yet.

In machinery, apparently, the turn has been made, though business, inquiries and collections have been unfavorable during the last quarter. Plumbing supplies was one industry which showed marked improvement, with prospects for gradual improvement during the latter part of the year. This may be due to renewed activity in building.

THE TRUTH ABOUT FORD'S OFFER

Gifford Pinchot, who is accredited with generally knowing what he is talking about before he starts to talk, has some very salient facts to present regarding Henry Ford's offer to the United States Government to take over the Muscle Shoals plant on the Tennessee River. In fact his remarks are so timely and to the point that they are produced below in full:

"The recent offer of Mr. Henry Ford to take over Government property at Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee River is so important that I take the liberty of laying certain essential facts before you.

"The first part of the Ford offer is to lease the Wilson Dam and Dam Number 3 for 100 years, with indefinite renewals, provided the Government will complete them and install machinery to produce 850,000 horsepower. Mr. Ford offers to pay 6 per cent on the 28 million dollars which he estimates will be necessary to complete this work, or 10 per cent on 48 million dollars. Mr. Ford's own estimate of the whole Government investment in dams, locks and power houses. Even if we add all other annual payments (the so-called amortization payments; and payments for the repair, maintenance and operation of dams, gates and locks), the total would be equivalent to interest at the rate of only 3-6 10 per cent. Mr. Ford offers also to give the Government 300 horsepower to operate the locks.

"Please note that for the waterpower itself Mr. Ford would pay nothing, and that he would be free from all taxes on the property. Other lessees of waterpower rights from the Government not only bear the total cost of building their own dams and powerhouses and pay taxes on them, but they also pay for the waterpower in addition. The Ford offer is like offering a man 3-6 10 per cent on the cost of his factory as rent, and then asking him to throw in a coal mine to supply fuel for the engines for nothing.

"There is no allowance for depreciation, and the Government would beyond question have to pay the cost of injury to the dams or locks from floods or other causes. Moreover, there is nothing in the offer to indicate that the Government, in order to protect its own property, would not have to bear the expense of replacing enormously costly machinery when it had been worn out in Mr. Ford's service.

"The second part of the Ford offer is to buy Nitrate Plant Number 1, which cost the Government in round numbers 13 million dollars, Nitrate Plant Number 2, which cost the Government in round numbers 70 million dollars, and other property which brings the total cost to 85 million dollars, and to pay 5 million dollars for it all. The property for which this offer is made includes steam machinery to produce 160 thousand horsepower, which alone is worth far more than Mr. Ford's offer for the whole. In addition, the Government is to buy from the Alabama Power Company the land upon which certain of the foregoing structures were built, and to turn that over to Mr. Ford also.

"In return for the lease, for the purchased property, and for the water power without charge, Mr. Ford offers in addition to the payments mentioned above, to do three principal things:

"First, 'to maintain Nitrate Plant Number 2 ready to be operated * * * in time of war for the production of explosives,' and in the event of war to turn it over to the Government for that purpose.

"Second, 'to operate Nitrate Plant Number 2 to approximate present capacity in the production of nitrogen and other fertilizer compounds,' and in this business to limit his net profit from the manufacture and sale of fertilizer products to eight per cent.

"Third, the offer as written suggests producing, but contains no direct proposal to produce, fertilizer for the benefit of American farmers. That could, of course, be corrected in the final contract, for I have no doubt that Mr. Ford desires to make fertilizer at a total net profit of eight per cent. Nitrate Plant Number 2, however, is not adapted to making fertilizer, but only dynamite, one of several materials used for the production of fertilizer, and not one of the best at that.

"The fact is that the Ford offer is not mainly a fertilizer proposition. It is seven parts waterpower to one part fertilizer, even if the fertilizer part should work out. For, if Nitrate Plant Number 2 were to be permanently employed in the manufacture of fertilizer it would consume but 100 thousand horsepower out of the 850,000 installation.

"Beyond question Nitrate Plant Number 2 ought to be maintained in condition for producing explosives in case of war. Most certainly it ought to be used for making fertilizer for American farmers. The wisdom of developing the waterpower on the Tennessee and its tributaries is beyond question. But all these things can be done with fairness to the public.

WOMAN TO DEFEND DRY LAWS BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Mrs. M. W. Willebrandt, Of California, Latest Addition To Staff Of Attorney General.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Protection of the prohibition laws against legal attack will be one of the tasks to be assumed by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, of California, today selected by Attorney General Daugherty to be Assistant Attorney General.

The appointment of Mrs. Willebrandt is regarded as the highest recognition President Harding has made of the ability of women to "fill a man's job." In defending prohibition statutes Mrs. Willebrandt will appear frequently before the Supreme Court. She succeeds Mrs. Anne Abbott Adams of California, who also was very successful in presenting the government side of prohibition cases before the Supreme Court.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

A very pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. John W. Nelson at their home on Clover Hill on Saturday, August 27th, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Nelson. The surprise was planned by her sisters and their families from Williamsport, Emporium, Sterling Run, Driftwood, Weedville and Ginter, who made the occasion a family reunion.

Rev. Hartman, wife and daughter and a few relatives and friends in and around Clearfield joined in the festivities, bringing baskets of good things and many handsome presents for Mrs. Nelson.

All the children of the family were present and the day was a highly enjoyable one. After dinner was served photographs of the family group and the entire assemblage were taken. The guests departed for their homes in the evening after wishing Mrs. Nelson many happy returns of the day.

The young people of the vicinity held a lawn party in the evening at which delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

PRESIDENT PLANS SHORT VACATION

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—President Harding plans a short vacation over Labor Day. It was learned today. He will probably motor to a nearby resort Saturday for a few days rest.

The president's desk is still piled high with routine business left over after the congressional recess.

The barbers and butchers of Clearfield positively refuse to attend tomorrow's ball game. The House of David team, in addition to being averse to having either their hair or whiskers trimmed, are also rank vegetarians and refuse to eat meat of any description, hence the animosity of the barbers and butchers.

Picked Up Along Third Base Line

The Phillipsburg Tabby Cats, who are only allowed to play ball with teams they can beat, defeated Bill Feeley and his DuBois Pirates in a see-saw game Saturday, the final score being 9 to 8. DuBois could have won but gave the visitors the game in the ninth because they want a return game at Phillipsburg. Sol Robinson played short for DuBois and had three hits off Rube Evans. Sol also starred in the field.

The second baseman of the House of David ball team has two plaits of hair which reach to his waist. They sure are a hairy aggregation.

The House of David ball team, which has met and defeated many of the strong independent baseball teams of the county, will meet the Clearfield Terriers at the driving park tomorrow afternoon. Mooney who will hurl the pill at our hitting Coliath's is said to be a real pitcher and has not lost a game on this eastern trip. Unlike the "hurling ace" the team takes its name from he will not be allowed to use a sling-shot when he ascends the pitching hill.

About 5000 people saw the game at Janesville yesterday. The proceeds of these games at Janesville are given by Mrs. E. J. Mountz to different charities. The local Children's Home is one of the beneficiaries.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mr. Harry Morse and wife, of Butler county, have been visiting in the homes of friends in town and vicinity.

Mr. Matt R. Chambers and wife, who hail from Portland Oregon and who have been spending about one month in Curwensville and vicinity will leave tomorrow for Sellingsgrove, Pa., to spend some time with Mrs. Chambers relatives, and about the first of October will return to their home on the coast. Mr. Chambers was fortunate enough to secure possession of an old fashioned spinning wheel, probably made by his father, Wm. P. Chambers more than fifty years ago. He shipped the relic to his son Charles Chambers, who resides in Cleveland. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chambers are loud in their praise of the royal treatment they received during their stay among Curwensville people and further up river folks.

Iron signs have been placed at intervals on the side of the two prominent squares, taking in the territory lying between Walnut and Filbert streets, prohibiting the parking of automobiles for a longer time than ten minutes. Parking is permitted on the left hand side of the street going down and also coming back. This is a good movement on the part of Borough Council and will make it considerably less dangerous for pedestrians in crossing the street from one side to the other, especially for the little folks. Heretofore these two squares were parking grounds for nearly a hundred machines every evening, shutting out from sight moving machines traveling through the streets without first getting out-rate of speed. In fact it was dangerous for any one to try to cross the streets without first getting outside the parking line to ascertain if the passageway was safe. Chief G. B. Clark is going to strictly enforce this new rule.

"Barney" Ayers, the rural mail carrier over Route No. 1, is free from duty at present enjoying a deserved vacation. Cloyde Starr, a resident of Susquehanna avenue, South Side, will deliver the mail until Mr. Ayers is ready to resume his work again.

Mr. Orvis Brennetti and family, who are residing in Ridgeway temporarily, came home on Saturday and spent several days with kin folks on North Pine street. Several men who spent all of last week selling bonds, representing large New York City firms and industries, did not depart empty handed, as we heard it quoted Saturday evening that they had disposed of some $50,000 worth of stock and bonds to Curwensville people who have been hoarding their pennies for years awaiting an opportunity to place the same in something that would pay them a reasonable profit on investment.

Miss Katherine Shearer, who has been visiting with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lew J. LaPorte, for a month past returned to her home in Olean, N. Y., Saturday.

The ball game between two teams known and recognized as the Vinegar League, of which Curwensville forms a part, played a game with an Ansonville advance guard Saturday afternoon and trimmed the visitors. The game generally was devoid of enthusiasm, being too much of a one-sided contest. A schedule or series of games are in preparation and as there are several clubs connected with this "Vinegar" League, Curwensville fans will be entertained from time to time by visiting base ballists.

After this week a large number of kids will be entertained sufficiently to occupy their time besides being on the public streets. All schools open up for the fall and winter term which will be a great relief to some parents.

GAMBLING RESORT RAIDED BY BANDITS

New York, Aug. 28.—Nine armed men, believed to be New York gangsters, raided a gambling resort in Stamford, Conn., early Sunday morning, stole $15,000 from 30 players and killed Bernard Kilkelly, of Stamford, when the refused to give up his money.

Stamford police arrested John Reddy, 18 years old, after they had fired a dozen shots at him in a chase near Greenwich, Conn.

WAR AGAINST WAR NOW PLANNED BY AMERICAN LEGION

Call Issued To Those Who Fought in World War To Join Another World Campaign.

Paris, France, Aug. 29.—(by cable).—A call to the men of the world who served in the late war to join now in another campaign—a war against war—was issued by Franklin D'Olier, former national commander of the American Legion at Chateau Thierry on August 26, and earlier in the same week by John G. Emery, the Legion's chief speaking at the unveiling of the French monument to the A. E. F. at Flirey.

"Blood is mixed with the mortar that holds these stones erect! Bayonets bent into trowels spread it there," Mr. Emery said. "Magnificent as this tribute is and proud as I am to behold it, I pray that it may be the last monument France ever have cause to erect to an American soldier. And by the same token may America never have cause to raise a shaft to a French soldier of another war."

"The time has come when the end of wars should no longer be considered in the light of an impossible dream. We hope there may rise someone who will point the way to an understanding whereby all wars shall cease."

At the dedication of the Pont Roosevelt, spanning the Marne at Chateau Thierry, Past Commander D'Olier declared that while the service men, by reason of their participation in the world war, could not be termed pacifists, they represent type of average citizen who always pay the price of war and as such they should lead in impressing upon the nation's public leaders the lesson that war does not pay. "War between nations is as useless and as senseless as duelling between individuals," he said. "We hope that our leaders will so conduct our nation that wars in the future will be buried in that deep grave with duelling."

"DISRAELI"

George Arliss has made his Disraeli at once a finished and picturesque characterization. That it should photograph well was a foregone conclusion, and the results to justify the prophecy are in the film, which is released by the Distinctive Photoplays Company through the United Artists Corporation.

The piece has been excellently set and not, thank goodness, with over-elaboration. The laying in of the background is important in "Disraeli" for it is against his panorama of prejudice and private worry and public opposition that Disraeli must move, or he would not be Disraeli, at least not the one drawn for us by Louis N. Parker and the deft Mr. Arliss. That the back drop, so to speak, has not been slighted or smudged is a boon to the chief actor.

There may, of course, seem too much to do in this political intrigue of 1876 to keep the average spectator interested all the time. The buying of the Suez Canal by England was an event that shook the world, but it remains that the digging of "that Egyptian ditch" might be more thrilling in the movies than were the behind-doors machinations for its purpose. Be that as it may, the producers had a play to follow rather than a motion picture to construct—and the scent of the play clings to it still.

What is most evident in the humor. It is conversational rather than situational. It was obvious that the suave repaitee of Disraeli that warmed one in the stage version, the things that he SAID, not what he did. Titles are the film's only recourse to humor in such a case, and the titles do what they can by using the best there was, hand-capped, of course, by the absence of George Arliss' dry, insinuating voice. There is still, however, the sensitive face and the quick, panther-like movement to point meanings and shades of meanings. These qualities of Mr. Arliss, which are peculiarly his own, he uses with telling skill. The rest of the cast is particularly good, though one looks perhaps, for a more typical Englishman than Reginald Denny for Viscount Deeford. This is not to discount Mr. Denny's acting in the least.

"CAPPY RICKS"

The most conspicuous person concerned with this film is one who does not appear—the director. Tom Ferman has the trick of taking an ordinary batch of film material and, by a yeast-like good humor raising it to something lighter and more palatable than its original state. We have noticed this quality in him before, and shall continue noting it they give him something worthier his efforts, something that will elicit enthusiasm for itself as well as for its director. Perhaps they have found him too valuable for making stale stuff exceedingly marketable, in which case he is not the first to die his own grave with the sharp spade of his talent.

"Cappy Ricks," adapted from the novel by Peter B. Kyne, is a tale of fight, on high seas and love ashore, and of fights ashore, too, for good measure. Whatever setback the hero may have midway, he is always victorious in the end, and he is especially adept at accomplishing the improbable. America with its established admiration for success against all odds, does not conceal its pleasure before this type of story. More than frequent tests have shown it proof against failure. And—"nothing succeeds like success."

Mr. Ferman has whipped his material into gratifying pictorial shape. He has composed his scenes with the eye of the spectator ever in mind. By way of making them even more presentable, he finds out their intrinsic humor, which he neither allows to get away from him or to run away with him. Add to his skill the pleasing personalities of Thomas Meighan and Agnes Ayres and "Cappy Ricks" turns out to be an enjoyable hour filler—if you have the hour.

COMING THURSDAY—

JIGGS AND MAGGIE

The many admirers of Jiggs and Maggie will be delighted to learn that "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street" is scheduled to appear at the Driggs Theatre next Thursday. This splendid combination of song, melody, wholesome comedy, beautiful girls, smart ensembles and ravishing costumes, comes from its successful engagements at the Manhattan Opera House, New York, and the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia, the Homes of Grand Opera, where it taxed the capacities of those two huge playhouses for many weeks. This season's offering is said to be the most pretentious of the "Father" series. "Bringing Up Father" certainly got many a laugh out of everyone who has seen it. It is delightfully amusing. A splendid cast of Broadway musical comedy players will be seen in the leading roles.

That Girl With The Monkey

She was a new type to this young aristocrat. He had known girls with wealth, and beauty, and social position, but here he was head-over-heels in love with a penniless orphan, a mere circus performer, who was good at summer-saults, but didn't know whether etiquette was something to eat or to wear.

Dick loved her just as she was, but aristocratic Southern families are not so easily satisfied as ardent young lovers are. The bewildered little clown found that life in a big house was quite different from life under the big top—in fact, that it was anything but a circus.

80TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

The comfortable farm home of Comrade Daniel H. Barnett, in Knox township, was the scene of a happy gathering on Friday last, the occasion being the 80th birthday of Mr. Barnett. Nearly two hundred of his relatives and friends were present to help this good old timer celebrate his arrival at the four score post and everybody enjoyed the day to the limit.

Bountiful refreshments were served and nothing left undone to make it pleasant for all.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Emma Neal and Mrs. Kate Welshons, sisters and George Barnett, brother, of the guest of honor. They were accompanied by Pauline Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Friedline, and William Neal neices and nephews of Mr. Barnett, all from Jefferson county, Rev. and Mrs. Jarrett, of McConnellsburg, Pa., and John Farrell, of Ohio, all old friends, were also present, while Isaac Wolfe of Ferguson; David Litz, of Houtzdale, and William Schoening, of Jordan, were among Mr. Barnett's civil war comrades present.

Mayor Chase, of Clearfield, acted as toastmaster, and the "feast of reason and flow of soul", following the eats, was highly enjoyable.

If we looked for people's virtues And their faults refused to see, What a pleasant, cheerful, Happy place this world would be.

WHAT TO EAT.

The eternal question constantly occurring daily, to be solved by twenty million housewives and cooks is what shall we have for dinner?

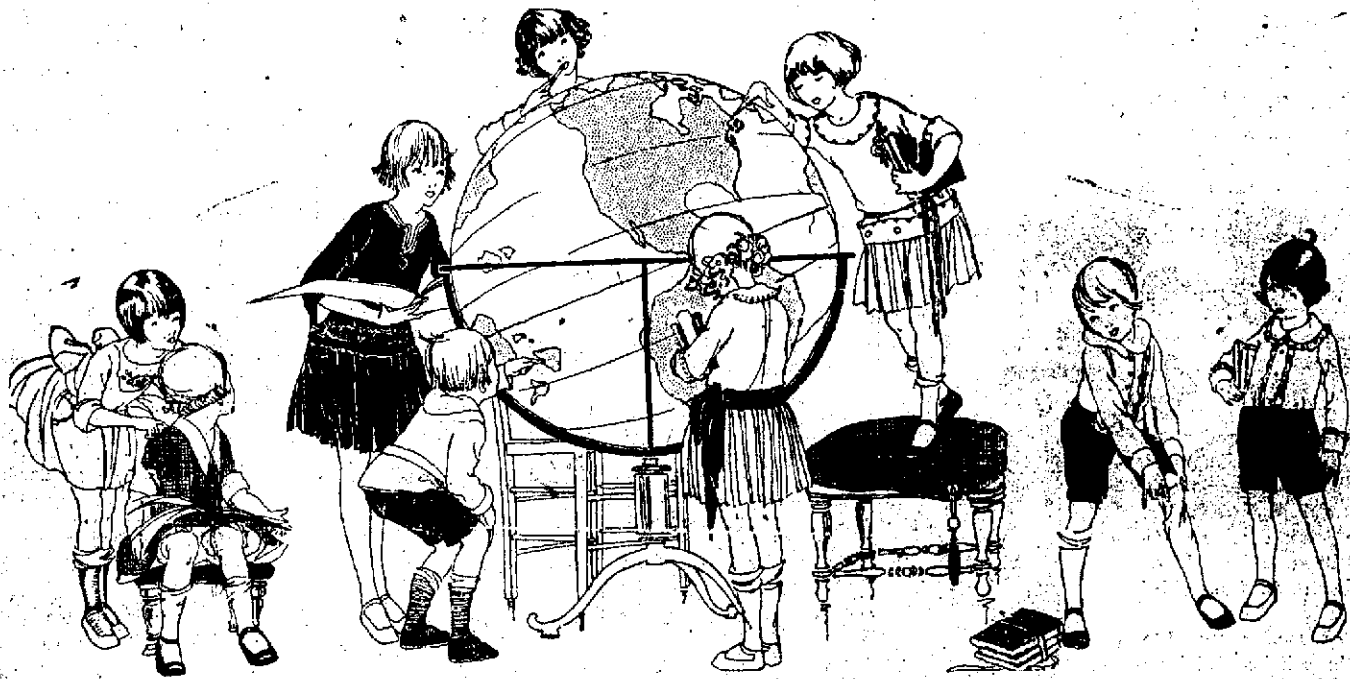

Fish Soup.—Cover the skin, bones of several fish (cod, haddock, flounder or lake trout) with cold water, add an onion, half a carrot, half a cupful of celery leaves, three branches of parsley, chopped and cooked in two tablespoonfuls of fat; let simmer, closely covered, for half an hour. Strain off the liquid and to a quart of the soup or broth add one-third of a cupful of minute tapioca cooked in a pint of milk until transparent; add a teaspoonful or more of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of paprika, one cupful of cream and half a pound of fresh raw fish cut in half-inch cubes. Let cook over boiling water ten minutes and serve with olives.

Creole Stew.—Take one pound of lean beef or a medium-sized fowl, two cupfuls of tomatoes, one cupful of carrots, one cupful of chopped sweet peppers, one-half cupful of rice, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped onion, one teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of fat. Cut the meat in pieces, melt the fat, add the onions, peppers, meat or chicken; brown in the fat. Put in the cooking vessel, with the seasoning, rice, vegetables, and one cupful of boiling water; simmer for one-half hour, then put into the cooker for three hours without the soapstones or two hours with them. With chicken and okra instead of the meat and carrots, this is a favorite southern dish.

Dried beef prepared by scalding and draining and used as the chicken with macaroni, makes another good hot dish for supper or luncheon.

Apple Gelatin.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water. Cook six tart apples with half a lemon rind, or use a like amount of seasoned apple sauce. Put through a sieve, and the juice of a lemon, the softened gelatin and pour into a mold. Serve with cream, whipped or plain.
